Coach Approach for Organizers™ trains professional organizers and productivity specialists to use coaching skills in their work with clients. This is ADHD or Executive Functioning coach training which is particularly effective and powerful for clients who live with organizing and productivity challenges.

Our ACSTH training begins with Coaching Essentials, an 8-week, coaching skills intensive. The minimum one-year Certified Organizer Coach Foundation Program includes four additional courses: Strengths-Based Coaching, Brain-Based Coaching, Life & ADHD Coaching, and Organizer Coach Integration. Foundation graduates have completed intensive coaching practice, readings, forum posts, and written and recorded assessments.

About half of our graduates continue into advanced and specialized coach training courses and seminars, an independent project, and explorations of additional coaching models to deepen their coaching competence, particularly in offering stand-alone coaching sessions (in additions to using coaching on-site to complement organizing). These advanced students are then eligible to apply for credentialing as a Certified Organizer Coach®. Credentialing assessments and administration are conducted by the Institute for Applied Coaching™ (IAC). Initiated in 2009, the COC® credential exceeds the requirements for ICF's Associate Certified Coach (ACC) designation. Applicants document extensive organizing and/or productivity experience.

In 2014, building on the above curriculum, we established credentials at an ICF Professional Certified Coach (PCC) level. These new credentials are the Professional Certified Organizer Coach, the Certified Organizer Life Coach, the Certified ADHD Organizer Coach, and the Certified Productivity Leadership Coach. This full coaching program is accredited by the International Coach Federation. as well as 125 hours of coach training, client coaching hours and mentor coaching. Deeply specialized training is reflected by the credential name.

Need a Credentialed Organizer Coach with Organizing & Productivity Expertise? Location Might Not Matter!

The coaches included here have been trained to provide coaching by telephone. If you do not need an on-site organizer (or you have one but would like the support of a coach also) consider coaching by phone. It's private and efficient (no travel time). On-site or telephone coaching can serve a prospective client in these ways:

- To clarify life or organizing goals before starting a big project
- To improve productivity or time management skills
- To provide at-a-distance organizing and coaching support (for the client and/or staff)
- To design and support new systems, routines or habits to become/stay organized or maintain health.
